

Light My Fire

Written by: Andrew McLeod

We are presented with a standard crossword grid, which can be filled out as normal.

The extraction step requires us to find the locations of torches throughout the grid. This step is tricky, but clued by the large number of words with “oi” in the flavor text (and in the grid), it works as follows: using our imagination, an “O” above an “I” kind of looks like a torch. Following the instructions in the flavor text, we light some cells. We can extract the letters from the doubly lit cells, which results in the clue: GNR’S HELLO, and the final solution (clued by “Amazon” in the flavor text): WELCOME TO THE JUNGLE
